Dogen Zenji's Waka Poems with Shohaku Okumura, Roshi: Dogen Zenji (1200-1253) used Mahayana philosophy, poetry, details of everyday life in a monastery to illuminate Zen practice. Shohaku Okumura, Roshi, founder and guiding teacher of the Sanshin Zen Community, is known for translating the works of Dogen, and other Soto Zen masters from Japanese to English. Today, he is recognized for his unique perspective on the life and teachings of Dogen Zenji derived from his experience as practitioner, translator, and a teacher in both Japanese and Western practice communities. Join us Aug. 22, 6:30pm. Suggested donation $10.
